

May 1, 1973 - Wed.

Dear Vicki and Jim,

I am still lying around but am feeling better today so expect to be back to normal soon. Ruthie just called and neither she nor Jeannie knew that Gail had gone to Hawaii. We thought it was pretty good to hear about it from you.

I heard on television about the hot weather back there. It is really hard to imagine. We still have rain, with a peek of the sun occasionally.

I wish I could hear you give your talks, Jim. I know you do a perfect job of it.

I hope you find a place to live closer to work. Buying a big house is quite a venture but your kids might as well plunge right in and do it.

Shopping eight miles away isn't so bad for groceries. Stella and I used to drive to Exumelace for our groceries,
and things always work out fine after one gets used to the changes.

Mary has been over this morning and has gone over to see Kim right now but will be back soon. She is trying to learn to crochet on again.

Thanks so much for calling Sunday. It will be nice if you can get out this summer.
Maybe our weather will be better by then.

Love,
Mom.
